Distribution of the Mahomedan Population according to Sects.

Distribution of the Mahomedan

Detailed description of the figure: The figure is a line graph showing the percentage of respondents who believe that the U.S. should take action to reduce global warming, broken down by age group (18-29, 30-49, 50-69, 70+) and year (2003, 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007). The Y-axis represents the percentage of respondents (0% to 100%). The X-axis represents the year. The legend indicates that the lines represent different age groups: 18-29 (solid line with circles), 30-49 (dashed line with squares), 50-69 (dotted line with triangles), and 70+ (dash-dot line with diamonds). The data shows that the percentage of respondents who believe the U.S. should take action to reduce global warming has generally increased over time, with the 18-29 age group consistently showing the highest percentage of respondents who believe the U.S. should take action. The 70+ age group consistently shows the lowest percentage of respondents who believe the U.S. should take action. The percentage of respondents who believe the U.S. should take action to reduce global warming is highest in 2007 for all age groups, with the 18-29 age group reaching nearly 100%.

General Form VI.

Distribution of the Population by Civil Condition, Age and Sex arranged by Provinces or States.

For Rajputana, Central India and the Feudatory States of the Central Provinces details of the Civil Condition of the population have not been obtained at the Census of 1881, except for a very limited number occupying cantonment areas in Central India; this large section of the population has therefore been shewn in this form under the head Unspecified Civil Condition.

2 The Civil Condition of the population of Cochin and Travancore not having been given by age periods identical with those given in this form, the population of those two States has been shewn under the appropriate Civil Condition heads, but without any specification of age.

The population of Cochin and part of Malabar in Bombay Feudatory States has been shewn by the Provincial Authorities by Civil Condition without distinction of religion. In these circumstances, the religion series of Form VI will not agree with general Form VI, if details of Civil Condition are compared; the population above referred to being shewn by religion in the religion series, under Civil Condition Unspecified, while in the general Form VI their Civil Condition is specified.

UNSPECIFIED E

The details under this head are in excess by 46 males and 52 females of the figures shown under Unspecified in Form III.

	Males	Females
Sikhs	22	10
Buddhists	5	4
Jews	1
Parsis	18	2

all 46 males and 52 females having been shown by the Provincial Authorities of Mysore in the Civil Condition Return under Unspecified Religion.

For Rajputana, Central India and the Feudatory States of the Central Provinces, details of the Civil Condition of the population have not been obtained at the Census of 1891, except for a very limited number occupying cantonment areas in Central India; this large section of the population has therefore been shown in this form under the head Unspecified Civil Condition.

The Civil Condition of the population of Cochin and Travancore not having been given by age periods identical with those given in this form the population of those two States has been shown under the appropriate Civil Condition heads but without any specification of age.

The population of Cochin and part of Malikuntha in Bombay Feudatory States has been shown by the Provincial Authorities by Civil Condition without distinction of religion; in the circumstances, the religion series of Form VI will not agree with general Form VI, if details of Civil Condition are compared; the population above referred to being shown by religion in the religion series under Civil Condition Unspecified, while in the general Form VI their Civil Condition is specified.

General Form VIIA.

Distribution of the Population by Age, Sex and Religion.

SIKHS A

The details under this religion are short here of the number shewn under Sikhs in Form III by 22 males and 19 females, the Provincial Authorities of Mysore having shewn 41 Sikhs as above under Unspecified Religion

BUDDHISTS B

The details under this religion are short here of the number shewn under Buddhists in Form III by 5 males and 4 females, the Provincial Authorities of Mysore having shewn 9 Buddhists as above under Unspecified Religion

JEWS C

The details under this religion are short here of the number shewn under Jews in Form III by 1 male, the Provincial Authorities of Mysore having shewn 1 Jew as above under Unspecified Religion

PARSIS D

The details under this religion are short here of the number shewn under Parsis in Form III by 18 males and 29 females, the Provincial Authorities of Mysore having shewn 47 Parsis as above under Unspecified Religion

UNSPECIFIED E

The details here under this head are in excess by 46 males and 52 females of the figures shewn under Unspecified in Form III, the Provincial Authorities of Mysore having included—

	Male	Female
Sikhs	22	19
Buddhists	5	4
Jews	1
Parsis	18	29
	46	52

under Unspecified Religion

In Travancore the Age Return originally sent into the Census Commissioner's Office did not give periods of age identical with those maintained in the Imperial Age Table. Subsequent to the compilation of the Age Statements for all India, the Dewan of Travancore was good enough to recast his Age Table, so as to bring it into uniformity with that used for British Provinces. It has therefore been thought advisable to print the figures, now obtained from Travancore, below the Age Tables by religions which had previously been completed.

As the Travancore population has already been included in the column Unspecified Age, allowance must be made for this, if the age details since given are added by any enquirer to the totals already given in the Age columns. In that event the aggregate of the age details of Travancore must be deducted from the appropriate unspecified columns.

Form XV.

Abstract showing the Villages and Towns throughout the Empire classified according to the number of Inhabitants.

Differences are observable in the number of Towns and Villages, as shown in the last column of this Statement and in the third column of Statement I in the case both of Ajmere and Assam

2 Fourteen more villages are shown against Ajmere in Form I than appear in Form XV. The cause of this difference is that in Form I, 14 deserted villages are included. These do not appear in Form XV.

3 For Assam, Form I shows 989 villages which do not appear in Form XV, of these 758 are situated in the Garo Hills, and 231 in the Naga Hills. As it was not possible to classify these villages in the form prescribed for Statement XV, owing to their population not having been separately given, these do not appear in Form XV.

Imperial Form XVII.

Abstract of the Hindu Population according to Caste.

There state
64	2,856,753	When this Form and Form III in the number shewn as Hindus, though, properly speaking, both give the same number for Hindus
		6,4,322 less than Statement XVII
		explained below —
203,684	202,790	shows 106,161 more than are shown in VIII (Provincial) for that province
		Officer has included in the VIII (Provincial) Statement 20,020 Jains who are shewn separately as Jains, XVII (Imperial)
4,358,123	4,226,068	shown in VIII (Provincial) 163,519 Aborigines in Hindu castes
		On hand, in III under Aboriginal religion he has shewn 37,338 Aborigines. Thus, in Aborigines alone he shews
1,879,276	1,901,334	126,181 persons more than he has shewn in III. This figure exactly equals the difference 106,161
		total figures in III and VIII (Provincial) XVII (Imperial), when the Jains included in Hindu castes in VIII (Provincial) but 4,438,317		from Form III under Hindus, are added to the latter figure us —
851,947	6,181	106,161 difference between III and VIII (Provincial) XVII (Imperial)
		+ 20,020 Jains excluded from Hindus in III, but included in Hindu castes in VIII (Provincial) XVII (Imperial)
		126,181

Second.—Rajputana shews in VIII (Provincial) XVII (Imperial) 373,672 more than are shewn in III as Hindus. Here again the provincial authorities have included under Hindu castes in VIII (Provincial) XVII (Imperial) 373,672 Jains whom in III, they have shewn not as Hindus but as Jains.

Third.—In Burmah 83,177 are shewn as Hindus in III, but no attempt in Form VIII (Provincial) XVII (Imperial) to classify by castes these Hindus has been made in Burmah. Consequently the Imperial Form XVII against Burmah is short of III by this number.

Allowing for these counterbalancing variations against the provinces named above in the entries in Statements III and XVII, we find as the net result that III shews less Hindus than are shewn in XVII by 184,334.

This is 12 more than the difference actually observable in the total Hindus of both sexes in XVII and in III. This excess of 12 is accounted for by Madras having originally shewn in III 12 more Hindus by religion than were subsequently shewn as Hindus by castes in the later prepared Form VIII (Provincial) XVII (Imperial).

As has been elsewhere explained, the alteration found to be necessary, when the more lately prepared Provincial caste form was compiled could not be effected in the religion statements for all India, which has been printed previous to the discovery of this error in the provincial statement.

Supplemental Form XVII.

Castes shewn in any one Province or State as exceeding 100,000.

In this Supplement to the Caste Statement, only those castes are detailed which in any one Province or State have been recorded in the Provincial Returns as exceeding 100,000 in number

The total number of persons shewn in this Supplement is 136,689 714. In the Provincial Returns, 25,350,547 persons have been shewn in the statements, from which the forms for all India have been compiled, without specification of the particular caste to which they belong

There are also 3,124,583 persons recorded in the various Provincial Statements as belonging to castes shewn separately in the Provincial Statements in more than one province, whatever their number in any one province may be, so long as less than 100,000, and so long as more than 50,000, though shewn in only one province

In addition the Provincial Returns shew 2,118,750 persons belonging to castes numbering less than 50,000 in any one caste and appearing in only one province

If to these figures be added the number of Brahmans and Rajputs shewn in Form XVII for all India, the entire number of Hindus in the Indian Empire is fully accounted for, so far as their description by caste within the limits noted above requires

It is undoubtedly the case that in this Supplement castes appear under different names, though the castes themselves are really one and the same, being known in different provinces by differing names e g, Nai and Ambattan similarly, Ahir and Gowalla. It has been thought inadvisable to attempt to amalgamate figures which in different provinces have been shewn against different caste names, while the reports for those provinces are not yet received. Any amalgamation of this nature can be arranged with most hope of success in that part of the General Report, which deals with the subject of caste. That Report cannot be compiled till the several Provincial Reports have been received

APPENDIX X—Corrigenda

The corrigenda in the following sheets relate to figures from the Madras Presidency which have been altered subsequent to the printing of the Imperial Forms

2 The difference between the former figures and the more recently revised figures is so small that it was deemed inadvisable to reprint the many pages in which these small alterations occur. In no case do they affect more than 12 persons out of 253 millions. Such as they are the alterations affect the figures for all India as well as those for Madras, but they affect only those figures which display the distribution of the population by religion. The total of the Province of Madras and the total of all India remain the same.

W C PLOWDEN,

Colonial Commissioner for India
